

BREAK TIME DRFT 1

Written by

Indira Lorick

NY-MAR-31R-04139-CS

indiralorick@gmail.com
678-833-7379

INT. INTERROGATION ROOM - DAY

DETECTIVE

Your salon is always so busy, Adriana. Surprising, considering that all the other businesses on the block are having a hard time keeping their doors open.

ADRIANA

How nice of you to notice. What can I say? My girls are some of the best in the city. You could say we are known for the quality of our work and for our (beat) speed.

DETECTIVE

Speed? Interesting choice of words.

ADRIANA

(leaning back)

There's no law against quick work is there? People still want to be pampered, Detective, even in these hard times. And they come to my salon to feel good. You know what? You should stop by sometime. Let me show you what I mean. Plenty of men come to me to get help and it looks like your hands could use a serious break.

Adriana smiles, hinting that the "break" she has in mind is not going to be pleasant.